

LOWEST SCORE LOSES

Goal

Be the last player standing.

Setup

Place 5 Grey Rocks and 3 Purple Rocks in the bag.

How To Play

The player who drew this Challenge Card goes first.

On your turn, reach into the bag without looking inside and pull out - or pretend to pull out - any number of Rocks. So you could pull 0 Rocks, 2 Rocks, 5 Rocks, or all 8 Rocks (but we'll explain why this would be a terrible idea in a moment). Keep your hand closed so no one can see how many Rocks you pulled. Then pass the bag to the player to your left.

When you get the bag it might be empty - that's fine, just pretend to take some Rocks and pass the bag to the next player.

Continue until every player has taken a turn. Then everyone will hold out their hands, count down from 3, and reveal their Rocks at the same time.

EACH TYPE OF ROCK IS WORTH POINTS:

Grey Rocks:
+1 Point

Purple Rocks:
-2 Points

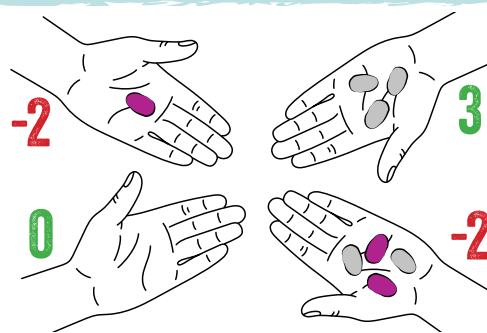

SO GREY ROCKS ARE GOOD, AND PURPLE ROCKS ARE VERY BAD.

Total the points for the Rocks in your hand. The player (or tied players) with the fewest points is knocked out of this Challenge.

If all remaining players are knocked out in the same round, redo that round.

Put all the Rocks back in the bag. The player with the bag in front of them goes first in the next round. (If that player is knocked out, pass the bag to the next player to their left who isn't knocked out.)

Continue playing until there is only 1 player left. That player wins this Challenge and gets the Immunity Idol Necklace!

Both players with -2 points are knocked out!

PLAYING WITH SURVIVOR: THE TRIBE HAS SPOKEN

Don't know what this game is?
Learn more here!

Survivor: Let's Go To Rocks can be combined with Survivor: The Tribe Has Spoken to create the ultimate Survivor experience. Use the instructions from Survivor: The Tribe Has Spoken with the following changes:

In SETUP of Survivor: The Tribe Has Spoken

1 Follow this step of Setup as normal, so every player has 2 Survivor Character Cards of the same color. You can choose Survivor Character Cards from either game.

2 Take the 5 Orange Challenge Cards from Survivor: Let's Go To Rocks and add them to the deck of 76 Action Cards. Then follow the rest of the instructions in Step 2, removing the 9 Tribal Council Cards and 6 Vote Cards from the deck and giving each player 1 Vote Card.

Follow Steps 3-7 as normal. Then place the Immunity Idol Necklace, bag, 10 Grey Rocks and 3 Purple Rocks on the table.

Getting Challenge Cards

If you get a Challenge Card from Survivor: Let's Go To Rocks, take it into your hand like any other Action Card from Survivor: The Tribe Has Spoken.

Playing Challenge Cards

When playing a Challenge Card from Survivor: Let's Go To Rocks, follow the rules found in this Survival Guide. Anytime you see the line "The player who drew this Challenge Card..." replace it with "The player who played this Challenge Card..." If both of your Survivor Character Cards have been voted out you can't take part in Challenges.

Winning A Challenge

When you win a Challenge from Survivor: Let's Go To Rocks, put on the Immunity Idol Necklace. While wearing it, players can't vote for you in the next Tribal Council. When that Tribal Council ends, put the Immunity Idol Necklace in the middle of the table.

If someone is already wearing the Immunity Idol Necklace when you win a Challenge, you instead get to take 3 random cards from anywhere in the Draw Pile. You CAN'T take Tribal Council cards.

SURVIVAL GUIDE

These are the instructions for each Challenge.

STOP!! Don't read this guide until you've started a Challenge. If this is your first time playing, see the Instruction Sheet.

1 NOW OR 2 LATER

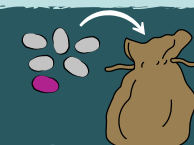

Goal

Don't Pull the Purple Rock out of the bag.

Setup

Place 5 Grey Rocks and 1 Purple Rock in the bag.

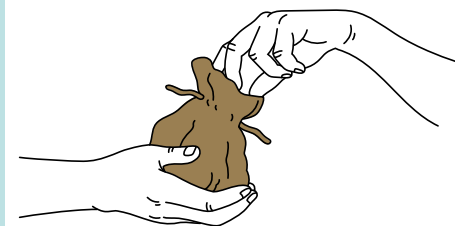

How To Play

The player who drew this Challenge Card goes first.

On your turn you must EITHER:

PULL 1 Rock out of the bag and place it on the table

OR

PASS the bag to the player to your left without pulling a Rock.

BUT the next time you get the bag, you MUST pull 2 Rocks and can't pass.

If you pull a Grey Rock, leave it on the table.

If you pull the Purple Rock, you're knocked out of this Challenge and the round is over. Return ALL Rocks to the bag and pass the bag to the player on your left (who hasn't been knocked out). This begins the next round and all players can choose to pull or pass (even if they passed on their last turn).

Continue playing until there's only 1 player left. That player wins this Challenge and gets the Immunity Idol Necklace.

Being knocked out of a Challenge does NOT mean you've been eliminated from the game. It just means you can't win the current Challenge.

HIDE 'N' SEEK

Goal

If you're the Observer, find the Purple Rocks. If you're not, hide the Purple Rocks from the Observer.

Setup

2 Purple Rocks. That's it!

How To Play

The player who drew this Challenge Card is the Observer.

The player to the left of the Observer takes both Rocks and holds them in a single closed fist. Make sure they aren't visible!

If you have the Rocks, pass – or pretend to pass – both Rocks to the player to your left. You can only use one hand. The player you pass to can only use one hand to take – or pretend to take – both Rocks, and your hands MUST stay above the table.

Try to be sneaky – the Rocks might make noise when you pass them, and you don't want the Observer to know if you passed the Rocks or not!

Continue passing – or pretending to pass – the Rocks around the table until they've been "passed" a total of 5 times. It's okay if some players get more than 1 turn. (And of course, don't pass to the Observer!)

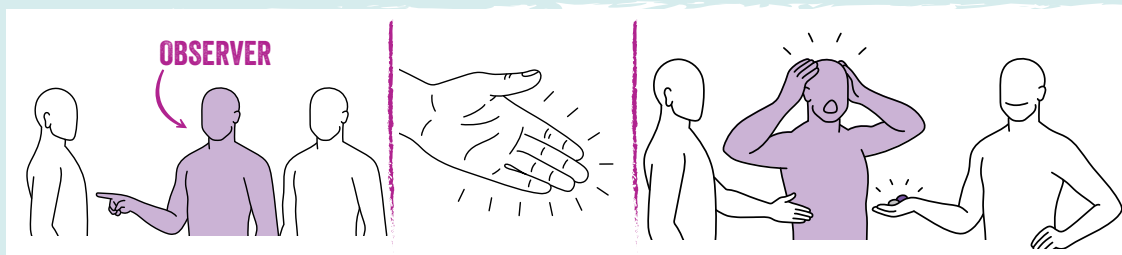

Remember: If you don't receive the Rocks from the player before you, try to make it look like you did. Then pretend to pass the Rocks to the player to your left to fool the Observer.

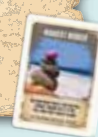

Once the Rocks have been "passed" 5 times, the Observer must guess who has the Rocks by pointing at a player and telling them to open their fist.

If that player has the Rocks, the Observer wins this Challenge and gets the Immunity Idol Necklace!

If that player doesn't have the Rocks, the player who DOES have the Rocks wins this Challenge and gets the Immunity Idol Necklace!

HIGHEST BIDDER

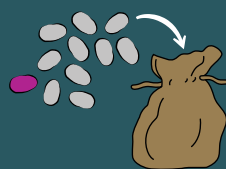

Goal

Be the highest bidder, but don't pull the Purple Rock out of the bag.

Setup

Place 10 Grey Rocks and 1 Purple Rock in the bag.

How To Play

Put the bag in the middle of the table.

BIDDING OR PASSING: Starting with the player who drew this Challenge Card, go around the table. Each player will either:

BID how many Rocks you think you can pull from the bag without pulling the Purple Rock.

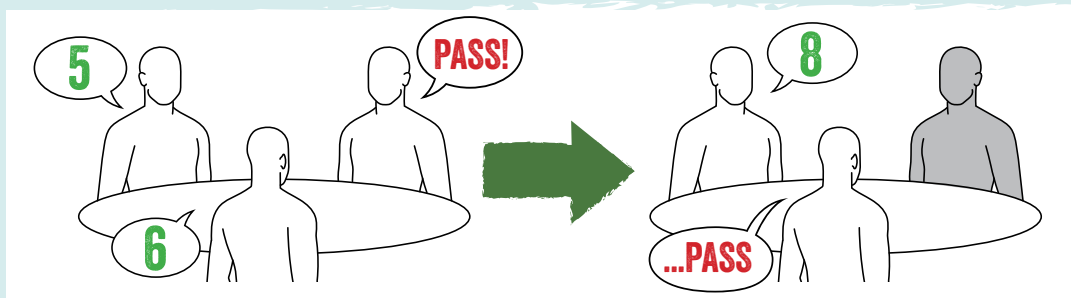

To bid, you must say a higher number than the current highest bid.

OR

PASS and lose your opportunity to bid again this round.

This means someone else will either win the Challenge or be eliminated this round, but it can't be you!

Continue around the table as many times as it takes until one player is the highest bidder and EVERYONE ELSE has passed.

When only one player is left, that player takes the bag to start pulling Rocks.

PULLING ROCKS: Pull as many Rocks from the bag as you bid, one at a time, without looking inside the bag. If you DON'T pull the Purple Rock, you immediately win this Challenge and get the Immunity Idol Necklace.

If you DO pull the Purple Rock, you're knocked out of this Challenge. Put all the Rocks back in the bag, then put the bag back in the middle of the table. The next player to your left who hasn't been knocked out makes the first bid for the next round.

Three more things:

- Knocked out players don't bid.
- If there is only 1 player left, that player immediately wins the Challenge.
- The first player each round MUST make a bid.

PULL OR STEAL

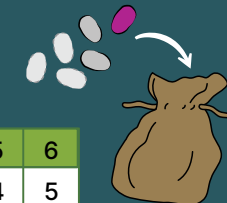

Goal

End the Challenge with the Purple Rock.

Setup

Place 1 Purple Rock and some Grey Rocks in the bag following this table:

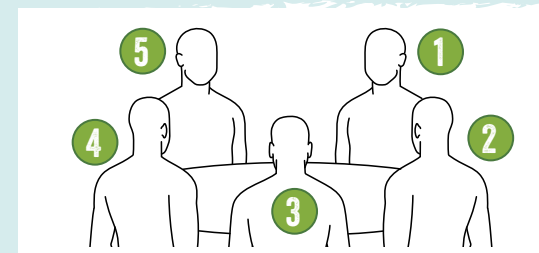

Players	3	4	5	6
Grey Rocks	2	3	4	5

How To Play

The player who drew this Challenge Card is Player 1. The player to their left is Player 2, then Player 3, and so on.

Player 1 starts the Challenge by taking the bag.

When you have the bag you have a CHOICE:

PULL a Rock from the bag without looking inside. Then pass the bag to the next player to your left who doesn't have a Rock.

Player 1 MUST pull a Rock.

OR

STEAL the Rock from any player whose number is lower than yours (if you think they have the Purple Rock). Then pass the bag to the player you stole from so they can take the next turn.

When you pull or steal a Rock, keep it in a closed fist so it isn't visible. You can look at your Rock at any time, but don't let anyone else see it.

Once everyone has a Rock, count down from 3. Then, everyone will reveal their Rocks at the same time. The player with the Purple Rock wins this Challenge, and gets the Immunity Idol Necklace.

THIS GAME IS ALL ABOUT BLUFFING!

When you pull or steal a Rock, use your reaction to fool the other players.

Before your turn you can ask the other players questions to try to figure out what color Rock they have, but remember: they don't have to tell the truth!
